A MONTH OF LEGACY, GRATITUDE, AND COMMUNITY

As the season gently turns, our kitchen has been brimming with more than just nourishing meals. This March, we witnessed the many ways our community chose to honor the past while embracing the promise of the future. Every hand that joined us added to a growing tapestry of care, connection, and belonging.

At the same time, our CSR partnerships continued to strengthen, enabling us to expand our impact and reach more families with sustained support.

Our “Seva Ki Thali” campaign remained a steady force—ensuring that every contribution directly supported the preparation of nutritious meals, allowing us to serve with greater consistency.

What emerged, above all, was a powerful reminder that this is not just a kitchen, but a space where compassion is practiced, milestones are shared, and community is continuously built, one thoughtful act at a time.

Honoring the lives of those who continue to inspire generosity in their name.

Honoring Shri Rajendra Gehani

We are deeply moved by the Gehani family's enduring tribute. Every month, their contribution in memory of Rajendra Gehani serves as a vital pillar for our kitchen's daily operations.

Remembering Shrimati Romila Handa: On March 11, Sameer and Puja Handa honored their mother, Romila Handa, the cousin of the PepperCook founder—with a donation that helped us turn remembrance into a lasting act of kindness.

A Grandfather's Legacy: On March 13, Avni and Aanshi Gupta spent the day in our kitchen, rolling up their sleeves to volunteer in memory of their grandfather, Shri Naval Kishor Ji Agrawal.

On March 25, Mamta Dalal became a part of our mission, offering a heartfelt tribute in memory of her father, Shri Chandravadan Taktawala aka CAT. Alongside her friends and family, she helped prepare 1,200 meals for children. We are equally grateful for her ongoing support, including donations of fresh fruit and vegetables from her farm.

COMMUNITY & CREATIVE SPIRITS

ART IN THE KITCHEN

Creativity took center stage on March 21 as we hosted K.Ceramics's Pottery Workshop—our second workshop under PepperCook Training School. It was a beautiful day of learning hand-building techniques and finding rhythm in the craft, right here in our seva space.

SOGETSU MUMBAI ASSOCIATION

On March 24, we were delighted to welcome a vibrant group of young women from the Sogetsu Mumbai Association. Beyond their incredible help as volunteers, they generously donated food ingredients to support our upcoming meals.

Thank you for being the hands and hearts that make this work possible.

A Heartfelt Thank You, whether through a donation, a day of cooking, or a creative session, your presence this March has made a world of difference. Thank you for making this kitchen a place of empathy and hope.
